Senior Mike Mastriana: a Veteran of the War in Iraq

In remembrance and appreciation for our veterans’ service and sacrifice, MCCN recognizes one of our own as representative of the countless Mount Carmel nursing education students and graduates who have served or are currently serving in the United States Armed Forces.

Rapper: Tell us the story of the flag.

Mastriana: This flag flew over downtown and rural Baghdad, on a high profile mission to support Vice President Joe Biden as he traveled to the U.S. Embassy and around our bases in Baghdad. I thought it would be an interesting mission to fly a flag in appreciation of MCCN — for the support I received to leave school early in 2008 and take a leave of absence without stress and complications, as well as the support I received from care packages staff sent to me. Staff maintained contact with me throughout my deployment and absence, as well...

Rapper: What does Veterans Day mean to you?

Mastriana: Veterans Day is a day of reflection and camaraderie; a day to get together with other veterans and talk about our experiences, as well as remember friends and those who never came home. It’s a day when I can take pride in my service with fellow veterans.

Military service is a combination of adventure and sacrifice. The things you do and experience would never occur in the civilian world, and the bonds and friendships you make are unique. However, during your service, you and your family must sacrifice many things taken for granted by most Americans and endure a lot of hardship. The rewards are hopefully worth the sacrifice.

Rapper: Why did you enlist and what is your branch of service?

Mastriana: I wanted to fly on and fix helicopters as something fun during college and to earn college money. I thought of switching to pilot or getting a commission after completing my degree. My branch of service is Ohio Army National Guard/Sergeant/Honorable Discharge from National Guard after six years of service (part of Inactive Ready Reserve until January 2012).

Rapper: What do you consider the biggest reward from military service?

Mastriana: The discipline I developed that allows me to get tasks done and keep cool during stressful situations and when I have to do things I just do not want to do. It helped me develop personally and gave me a perspective of how nice I have it living where and how I do, as well as what true stress is. Also, the access to education my military career afforded me is invaluable.

Rapper: When and where was your deployment?

Mastriana: I was deployed January 5, 2009 — December 22, 2009 to Joint Base Balad and Victory Base (Baghdad).

Rapper: What was your mission?

Mastriana: My initial mission was transporting people and material around Iraq. I was then switched to being a member of the personal flight detachment for the commander of the Multi-National Security Transition Command-Iraq and NATO Training Mission-Iraq. I flew as a crew chief during missions (door gunner, cargo/mission specialist, flight mechanic) and maintained helicopters.

Rapper: Did you use your nursing education?

Mastriana: I was trained as a Combat Life-Saver, a first responder that supplemented Combat Medics. Nursing school helped me better understand my training and I was able to better help members of my Company in non-combat related incidents.

Rapper: Is military medical practice different from what you are learning now?

Mastriana: The biggest difference from the limited care I provided is the personal attention to creature comfort and holistic approach. I was not trained to provide a...

caring bedside manner. I have to make sure I do not get into a mindset of just getting the job done at any cost, but also take into consideration the personal feelings and perceptions of the patient. In simple terms, I have to be sensitive to the patient.

Rapper: Why did you choose the nursing profession?

Mastriana: I don’t personally enjoy working only with theory. I like to apply theory and get my hands dirty in my work. I was torn between paramedic and RN because of the personal interaction and hands on atmosphere of job, but figured a BS was the better way to go for flexibility and job security. My mother-in-law was the individual who suggested nursing and enabled me to shadow her in the Emergency Department at OSUMC, an experience that certainly sparked my interest in nursing.

My immediate goal is to begin my nursing career in either an Intensive Care Unit or Emergency Department position as a staff nurse (preferably Pediatrics). I would like to eventually become a flight nurse and earn a certification as a perfusionist.

Thanks to all our Mount Carmel veterans for your service.

ATI Comprehensive Review for NCLEX Preparation

Beginning with the 2011-2012 academic year, students graduating from the traditional pre-licensure nursing program are required to attend an ATI Comprehensive Review for NCLEX Preparation. Students on track to graduate from the traditional pre-licensure program are assessed a $250 senior year fee that enrolls them in the ATI Comprehensive NCLEX Review arranged by the College. The onsite review is offered in May the week following graduation for May and July graduates. The onsite format consists of a three-day comprehensive in-class review. October, December, and March graduates are offered an onsite review session if there is a minimum of 25 students in attendance. If there are fewer than 25 students, graduates will enroll in the comprehensive review in a self-paced online format with an individually assigned ATI course instructor. Second Degree Accelerated students will receive information from their Program Coordinators about the ATI review session.

MCCN Volunteer Tutors: Impacting Children’s Lives and the Community

There is still time to join the 16 MCCN students and three MCCN staff members who are changing lives by giving just one hour of their time each week. Our volunteer reading tutors head to nearby Avondale, Dana, or Sullivant Elementary during lunchtime once a week. There they spend 45 minutes helping young students improve their reading skills, which will change their lives.

Volunteers tutor on the day of the week that is convenient for them, and students receive community service credit for tutoring. But more than those credits, much more, is received by the volunteers. Four of our student volunteers relay their individual tutoring experiences, but all agree that in giving they are receiving.

Junior Tori Fox loves kids, and the tutoring gives her a sense of really helping them, since reading will impact these kids’ education for the rest of their lives.

“It’s so adorable to see my little girl get so happy to see me every week and be excited to learn and read. In just one month, I’ve seen improvement. And she’s opening up more and beginning to trust me. She talks more and is comfortable enough to not get embarrassed as much when she messes up a word.”

Fox believes in the program and encourages more volunteers. “There’s so many kids to help, even if EVERYONE volunteered, there’d still be kids needing help. So many don’t have what we have. One hour a week can change a kid’s life,” says Fox. “It’s just really rewarding. I’m not even doing it for the community service hours. I’m doing other stuff for that, I just enjoy helping.”

Junior Jenna Johnston decided to become a reading tutor because it is a way of giving help to those who need it, especially if an impact can be made when people are young. “Helping young children is like watering a flower. The more effort you put into assisting these young children, the fuller they will bloom with their intelligence and education.”

Johnston describes her tutoring at Avondale as a great experience. “I really look forward to tutoring every week, and so do all of the children. Believe it or not, you as the

Graduation Applications Now Past Due!

Graduation applications were distributed the week of September 5 to student mailboxes on the main campus and emailed to MCCN-FMC students. Applications are also available on CARMELink (Student tab → Student Forms or Student tab → Records & Registration).

The deadline to submit graduation applications was Friday, September 23. Applications must be on file in order to begin the graduation process. If you expect to complete degree requirements during the 2011-2012 academic year, please submit your application NOW. The graduation fee will be charged to your student account in the semester you graduate.

Pre-licensure students who wish to verify completion of degree requirements may schedule an appointment to update their degree audits. Contact Karen Greene (614-234-5685) to schedule an appointment. RN-BSN and MS students may contact Kip Sexton (614-234-5169) for verification of degree completion requirements.

Community Service

Social Responsibility is one of the “Core Values” contained in the mission of Mount Carmel College of Nursing. In accordance with the College’s Mission and Catholic Identity, the Community Service requirement for nursing students includes the application of one’s skills and time to meet identified community needs of vulnerable and at-risk populations.

This activity leads to learning and development through active participation in thoughtfully organized service that:

- is conducted in and meets the needs of the community
- involves reflection and analysis of the experience
- promotes the development of leadership skills, citizen skills, and social responsibility

Pre-licensure students are required to complete 20 clock hours of community service prior to the beginning of the last semester of enrollment (RN-BSN and SDAP students must satisfactorily complete 10 clock hours).

Pre-licensure students who do not meet the deadline will be required to complete an additional 10 clock hours (for a total of 30 hours) in order to meet the graduation requirement.

Any student who does not meet the requirement by the policy deadline may participate in Commencement activities but will not receive a diploma or be eligible for NCLEX-RN testing until this requirement is met.

Additional details regarding the Community Service Learning Program can be found in the Student Handbook.

Degree Audits

Pre-licensure students who want to verify current completion of program requirements may schedule an appointment to review their degree audits. Contact Records and Registration (614-234-3870) or Karen Greene (614-234-5685) to schedule an appointment.

Students finishing the onsite RN-BSN Completion Program and Master’s students should contact Kip Sexton (614-234-5169) with questions about degree audits.
Withdrawal Policy Reminder

For the purposes of this policy, there are two types of courses: non-nursing courses and nursing courses. Nursing courses include all courses with a prefix of NURS (with the exception of nursing seminars). Non-nursing courses include all other courses taken in the academic program (including nursing seminars).

After the course start date, a student must first notify the course instructor and obtain his/her signature prior to submitting an Add/Drop Form to the Office of Records and Registration. Submission of the form to Records and Registration is required for official withdrawal from a course. Non-attendance in a course after the withdrawal deadline is considered being absent from the course. Failure to submit a faculty-signed Add/Drop Form will result in a grade being assigned at the conclusion of the course. All course withdrawals are subject to the “Refund Policy” section of the Student Handbook.

• A student may withdraw from any course by the end of week 1 and the course will not appear on the transcript.
• A student may withdraw, without academic penalty, from a 16-week semester course by the end of week 12 of the course. A grade of “W” will be posted to the student’s academic transcript.
• A student may withdraw, without academic penalty, from an 8-week term course by the end of week 6 of the course. A grade of “W” will be posted to the student’s academic transcript.
• A student may not withdraw from any course after week 12 of a 16-week semester course or week 6 of an 8-week term course.
• Summer courses operating on a modified schedule will follow deadlines equivalent to the proportional requirements stated above.
• A student may withdraw from only one nursing course during the program of study.
• A student may withdraw from a total of two different non-nursing courses during the program of study.
• A student who is retaking a course from which he/she has previously withdrawn may not withdraw from that course a second time; a course grade will be assigned at the conclusion of the retake.
• Withdrawing from a course does not force the student to also withdraw from a co-requisite course.

October is Relationship Violence Awareness month. Student Government Association (SGA) had a table at the Fall Festival where students could sign the “It’s Abuse” pledge, make a purple ribbon to wear, and write a positive message regarding healthy relationships. The messages were then taped to the walls of Charlie’s Java Jolt.

SGA representative Devon Baldwin is SGA’s committee chair of the “It’s Abuse” Campaign. Baldwin sent this report regarding the College’s “It’s Abuse” effort at the Fall Festival to Nationwide Children’s and The Coalition against Family Violence’s “It’s Abuse” college campaign coordinator Sarah Ozello:

“Today (October 31) turned out really well! We were able to fill the walls of the College cafe with the awareness templates and I received a handful of pledges. We also received $11.00 in donations, which I would like to donate to Choices. Thank you so much for coming to the festival today and thank you for sitting in for me while I explored. I hope you were able to check out some of the fair yourself.”
Seven Common Dieting MYTHS

By Alexandra Moore, Dietetic Intern

1. Eating late at night will make you gain weight. When you eat food before bed or before you sit down to watch a movie, the speed of food digestion slows down. However, as soon as activity is resumed the calories will be metabolized in the exact same way.1 The calories are the same if you are inactive for one hour or 10 hours. Late-night snacking is often discouraged purely based on the fact that we tend to make unhealthy food choices at night.

2. The less you eat, the more weight you will lose. Crash diets and fasting will cause you to lose weight in the very short term. However, this method of dieting will also cause you to lose muscle, which will decrease your metabolism.2 Prolonged fasting will cause the body to think it is starving, which causes it to store energy differently. This tends to stop further weight loss despite continued dieting.

3. Whole grain bread is “healthier” than white bread. It is true that the whole grain bread is naturally higher in fiber and nutrients. However, whole grain options may not always be “healthier.” When comparing breads at the grocery store you may be surprised to find that some whole grain products actually have more calories and more sugar per serving than their counterparts.

It is also not true that white bread is “bad” for you. Most white breads are enriched or fortified with folate, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, and iron.

4. Sugar makes you hyper. According to the Journal of the American Medical Association and every major medical journal, sugar does not cause hyperactivity.3, 4 Sugar does provide the body with energy in the form of carbohydrates, but not any more than crackers, bread, or baked potatoes.5 However, foods high in sugar should be limited because they are often high in calories, and low in nutrients.

5. Certain foods like cabbage and grapefruit burn fat. Cabbage and grapefruits are low in calories so it would be difficult to gain weight from eating them. However, there is no scientific evidence that suggests ANY food can burn fat. Some foods with caffeine may speed up your metabolism, but only for a short time.6 Be aware that grapefruit does interfere with several types of medications, so please speak with your pharmacist before incorporating this fruit into your daily diet.

6. Turkey makes you sleepy. Tryptophan is an amino acid, which can bind to dopamine receptors in your brain, inducing a sleepy effect.7 However, turkey does not contain enough tryptophan to effectively raise dopamine levels.8 After a big turkey dinner the “sleepy” effect is generally due to overeating.7

7. Organic = Healthy. Organic foods are those produced without the use of chemical fertilizers, pesticides, or other artificial agents. With the increased popularity of organic products, prepackaged goods, such as organic cereals, granola bars, butter, and canned vegetables are increasing in popularity. However, fresh organic fruits and vegetables have the same nutrient content as non-organic fruits and vegetables. Furthermore, organic prepackaged products are not necessarily lower in fat, calories, sodium, or sugar. Be sure to compare labels.

Fall Festival 2011 a Fun Time for All!

Approximately 300 students enjoyed the fun of the College’s annual Fall Festival held on October 31. The photo-booth, always a big hit, was especially popular this year with the addition of props for the students to dress up in for their photos. “I had so much fun at the Fall Festival! It was seriously awesome! Thank you!” said student Chandra Grace.

“Erica Carlson, professional balloon artist, made amazing things from balloons. People stood in line for an hour just waiting to get one of her creations,” said the event planner and Director of Student Life, Colleen Cipriani.

There was also an appearance by Albert Einstein, aka Cipriani, who performed an illusion to make attendees think their brains had three hands. Campus Ministry participated with a bake sale and a basket raffle to raise money for an upcoming Campus Ministry mission trip. Instructor Deborah Huff, APRN, BC, performed Reiki.

Volunteers Made it all Possible

SGA reps helped with set-up, and clean-up, sold campus apparel, served cake and ice cream, and staffed the “It’s Abuse” table. Special thanks to the SGA members who volunteered at the festival: Devon Baldwin, Katie Bradley, Sarah Brantley, Whitney Eal, Anne Hahn, Ben Moore, Stephanie Rienschield, Ashli Temple, Symphony Voelkel, and Molly Wake.

Faculty and staff helped with the Burrito Bar, served cake and ice cream, manned the popcorn machine, sold campus apparel, and judged the costume contest. Thanks to Fatma Al-Lamki, Jan Burkey, Kerry Dawley, Theresa Draher, Kathy Espy, Denise Ferrell, Frieda Gill, Julie Haley, Deb Huff, Catie Maurer-Baack, Laura Spurlock, Tricia Whitney, and Ann Waterman.

“What a success! Thanks to all the volunteers. I couldn’t have done it without you,” said Cipriani.
