Spring has Sprung!

MCCN students Annie Hahn, Katie Snider, and Clayton Chipps enjoy the sun, warmth and beautiful blossoms of an early and most welcome spring.

Spring has arrived in the most beautiful way on the campus of Mount Carmel College of Nursing! Faculty, staff and students are enjoying each and every moment of fresh green grass, plentiful spring flowers and record breaking temperatures. Here’s what a few MCCN Nightingales have to say about spring:

Lyndsy Carson, Master’s student: I was really excited because I saw a firefly on the first day of spring!

Ashley Smith, Master’s student: I love the blossoming of all the spring flowers, the sunshine and the sound of chirping birds.

Kathy Espy, Director of Minority Affairs and Community Initiatives: I love spring — and March is also my birthday month!

Kim Campbell, Director of Admissions: I’m a big flower person — I love the smell of flowers and the warmth of the sun.

And of course, spring at MCCN signals the countdown to Pinning and Graduation the first weekend in May and the fun of the annual Spring Festival set for Monday, April 2, 11:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Fifteen from MCCN Attend Nurses Day at the Statehouse

Mount Carmel College of Nursing sponsored 15 students (from the BSN program, the master’s program, and the Second Degree Accelerated Program) and faculty to attend Nurses Day at the Statehouse on Wednesday, February 29.

“The Atrium at the Statehouse was packed with about 400 nurses and nursing students from all over the state,” said Assistant Professor Pat McKnight, MS, RD, LD.

The morning session included presentations from two legislators: Senator Dave Burke and Representative John Carney. A panel of 18 nurses from various areas of practice each spoke for three minutes about their primary legislative issue. Before lunch, students and faculty visited the offices of their state senators to talk with the aides about issues and concerns.

Lunch in the Atrium of the Statehouse included legislators and legislative aides. Unfortunately, both the Senate and the House had canceled session that day, so many legislators were not in town to attend the lunch.

After lunch, participants in groups of two-four visited the offices of two State Representatives — their own and one other. Several of the Central Ohio Representatives were available: Representatives Garland, Stinziano, Gonzales, and Duffey.

Student comments from the day:

“It was very informative and interesting.”

“I value this day and look forward to being back next year as a nurse.”

“I enjoyed representing Mount Carmel at the Statehouse.”

“The legislative aides were professional and answered most of our questions.”

Students Gain as Much as They Give during Clinical

Isabelle Ridgway Center, a 100-bed, not-for-profit, community owned and operated long term care center on the near eastside of Columbus, has been a clinical site for MCCN NURS 406 Gerontology (lead instructor, Assistant Professor Catherine M. Maurer Baack, MS, RN-BC, CNS) students since fall 2011.

At Isabelle Ridgway, students work with a variety of residents and activities while developing skills and understanding for geriatric syndromes. Students rely on skills of physical assessment, as well as using a variety of communication skills to develop holistic assessments of the residents. The students plan and implement a variety of activities for the residents during their placement, such as cookie baking, memory games, crafts to work with fine motor skills, exercise, and social events to improve the residents’ engagement.

A recent issue of “The Ridgway Times,” the facility’s newsletter, devoted a few pages to an article about MCCN students and the impact they have had at Isabelle Ridgway, as well as the impact the students’ experience there has had on them.

From “The Ridgway Times” — Learning while Laughing

It is a pleasure having the Mount Carmel College of Nursing students with us! The NURS 406 clinical group, led by Assistant Professor Katheryn Fernandez, PhD, RN, meets at Isabelle Ridgway on Tuesdays and Wednesdays for hands-on experience working with our residents. Not only do they fine-tune their nursing skills, but Dr. Fernandez emphasizes the importance of holistic care for each person. They learn and see first hand the impact that therapeutic activities have on the residents’ physical, emotional, and mental health. Quality of life is greatly improved for each resident when they participate in meaningful and enjoyable activities.

The students plan and implement a variety of activities with the residents, such as giving them manicures, cookie baking, playing games and Wii sports, and socializing with them. The residents love the interactions and the special attention the students provide.

Here’s what Mount Carmel College of Nursing students had to say about their experience here at Isabelle

“I have taken so much from this experience. I loved everything about Isabelle Ridgway, but most importantly the people. It makes me realize how much of a difference we can all make; not just as nursing students, but as people. I hope the residents take as much away from this as I have!” — Abbey

“I am not only leaving Isabelle Ridgway with a better understanding of nursing, but I’m leaving here with a second family. The residents and staff have been more than welcoming and helpful while we learn.” — Christine

“I have always had a stigma about rehabilitation centers and extended care homes, but this setting has completely reshaped my thoughts.” — Aaron

“We have all felt very welcomed by the staff to continue their efforts to make Isabelle Ridgway an excellent place to call home.” — Thomas

“All of the staff and the residents at Isabelle Ridgway have been more than welcoming. The family-based community here has opened my mind to a whole new experience. As a future nurse, I will take away all of the wonderful experiences I have had here.” — Meredith

“Isabelle Ridgway is such a family-centered place! Patients are called by their names and treated with such respect and dignity. The staff is very welcoming and helpful and I would recommend this place to anyone.” — Jill

“I have had the most wonderful and welcoming experience at Isabelle Ridgway. I have enjoyed the residents so much. I feel I have made a great many friends and I will miss everyone greatly.” — Nicole

Are You Taking a Course Elsewhere?

Any student taking a class at one of our affiliated institutions (Columbus State Community College or The Ohio State University) is required to submit a copy of his/her course schedule to the MCCN Records and Registration Office (Marian Hall, Room 2C01).

- Deadline for submitting Spring Quarter schedules is Friday, March 30.

Students must also notify MCCN Records and Registration when they drop or withdraw from an affiliated course. We have found this notification to MCCN frequently is not happening. Remember … you need to keep MCCN updated on your affiliated status!

All students must submit their CSCC or OSU course schedules to MCCN Records and Registration every quarter they take classes. Students who neglect to fulfill this responsibility will find that their credit hours at CSCC or OSU may not count toward calculation of total credit hour load.

Financial aid awards are based on total registered credit hours. Delinquent students may find themselves at less than full-time hours for financial aid calculation.

IF YOU ARE CURRENTLY TAKING AN AFFILIATED COURSE OR HAVE WITHDRAWN FROM AN AFFILIATED COURSE AND HAVE NOT ALREADY NOTIFIED RECORDS AND REGISTRATION, PLEASE DO SO IMMEDIATELY.

ATI Comprehensive Review for NCLEX Preparation

Beginning with the 2011-2012 academic year, students graduating from the traditional pre-licensure nursing program are required to attend an ATI Comprehensive Review for NCLEX Preparation. Students on track to graduate from the traditional pre-licensure program are assessed a $250 senior year fee that enrolls them in the ATI Comprehensive NCLEX Review arranged by the College.

This year’s 3-day in-class review for May and July graduates will be held May 7, 8 and 9, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. in the College Gym.

October, December and March graduates are offered an onsite review session if there are a minimum of 25 students in attendance. If there are fewer than 25 students, graduates will enroll in the comprehensive review in a self-paced online format with an individually assigned ATI course instructor. Second Degree Accelerated students will receive information from their Program Coordinators about the ATI review session.
Community Service

Social Responsibility is one of the “Core Values” contained in the mission of Mount Carmel College of Nursing. In accordance with the College’s Mission and Catholic Identity, the Community Service requirement for nursing students includes the application of one’s skills and time to meet identified community needs of vulnerable and at-risk populations (e.g., children, elderly, homeless, poor and underserved, and organizations that support these populations).

This activity leads to learning and development through active participation in thoughtfully organized service that:

- is conducted in and meets the needs of the community
- involves reflection and analysis of the experience
- promotes the development of leadership skills, citizen skills, and social responsibility

Pre-licensure students are required to complete 20 clock hours of community service prior to the beginning of the last semester of enrollment (RNs enrolled in the BSN Completion Program and SDAP students must satisfactorily complete 10 clock hours).

Pre-licensure students who do not meet the deadline will be required to complete an additional 10 clock hours (for a total of 30 hours) in order to meet the graduation requirement. RN-BSN and SDAP students who do not meet the deadline will be required to complete an additional 5 clock hours (for a total of 15 hours) in order to meet the graduation requirement.

Any student who does not meet the requirement by the policy deadline may participate in Commencement activities but will not receive a diploma or be eligible for NCLEX-RN testing until this requirement is met.

Additional details regarding the Community Service Learning Program can be found in the Student Handbook.

Becoming More Respectful

By Cheryl Mace, MSN, MALM, RN
Coordinator, MCCN/FMC Satellite Program

As a member of the Mutual Respect Committee, I felt compelled to ponder how I can become more ‘respectful’ toward others. Let’s face it...being respectful 100% of the time is hard! After all, I’m human and I get frustrated just like anyone else (and some might say even a little quicker than anyone else!). Our temperament is a result of nature, nurture, and attitude, so behaviors we experience and emulate, along with our specific DNA help to set the tone along with our individual personality.

In my professional role, I sometimes find it difficult to balance certain behaviors, such as enforcing policy without intimidation. For example, students at the FMC satellite know that they are supposed to park in the student parking lot; however, many consistently park in the adjacent garage due to limited parking spaces in the student lot, inclement weather, or because they are just too tired to make the trek from the student lot to class. While I am certain there are at least a dozen more reasons for this behavior, the point is they are not parking in the student lot.

It’s up to me to enforce this policy. I wonder, “How can that be done without bullying or intimidating the students?” Despite warning them time and time again, there is no change. While pondering my next step in this saga, a student received a citation and suddenly learned where to park. Apparently it is not about my next step, rather sometimes it pays to wait and the problem may solve itself.

As nurses and nursing students, it is important to recognize that we have the opportunity to affect hundreds of outcomes on a daily basis, starting with treating others as we want to be treated. While I know I am hopelessly flawed in every way, I try to start each day anew and sometimes I even make it until lunch before I step on someone’s toes, say something completely inappropriate, or just do the wrong thing. The important thing is that I try again and again to get it right.

I don’t know anyone who wakes up in the morning and wants to have a miserable day or who wants to create misery for every person they come into contact with that day (If you know this person, run). This would not be ‘normal’ behavior to me, because I define normal as “The ability to remain at large.” So if you are not under arrest or a prisoner, I consider you to be normal.

If you are normal, this implies that you act as though you are normal. The simple act of looking the other person in the eye is normal and can positively enhance communication and promote respect. Even if you are having the worst day of your life so far, try to be open to new people and new ideas because your attitude is the most important aspect of any issue. Charles Swindoll wrote, “I am convinced that life is 10% what happens to me and 90% of how I react to it.” I have found this to be true so far.

Also, give being respectful a new try. Restore some civility to your interactions in a world that seems to have lost a lot of it. Do the right thing instead of the wrong thing. And, above all try to remain “at large.”

Reminder to Vote for the Faculty/Staff of the Year

Each year members of the College nominate and vote for an outstanding faculty and staff member who have made significant contributions to the College. This year we recognize individuals from the MCCN undergraduate faculty, graduate faculty, RN/BSN faculty, Fairfield Medical Campus faculty, and professional staff.

Everyone is invited to nominate one professional staff member for the award. Each student is invited to nominate a faculty member in the category that corresponds to the student’s area of enrollment. For example, a graduate student would nominate a graduate faculty. (Please note: SDAP faculty awards will take place in December.)

Faculty and professional staff are invited to nominate one faculty member in one category. The voting process consists of two stages; nomination and selection.

Nomination stage: In this first round of voting, all eligible faculty and staff are listed in a nomination ballot distributed to all students, faculty and staff. Please nominate one faculty member and one staff member for the award. At the bottom of each section of the ballot is a comment box. Please list the nominated person’s name and write a narrative regarding the reason you believe this person should be nominated for the award. Nominations ended at 11 p.m., March 23, 2012.

Selection stage: The second round of voting will determine the winners of the faculty and staff awards. A list of faculty and staff who received the largest number of votes during the nomination process will be distributed for a final vote to senior students, faculty, and staff. The faculty and staff member who receive the highest number of votes during the selection stage will receive the award. Voting will be open from March 26 to April 6 at noon.

If you were able to nominate via CoursEval earlier this week, please do not place another nomination. Your CoursEval nomination will be combined with the results of this survey. Please honor a special faculty and professional staff by participating in the voting process. Please send questions concerning the voting process to Sherry Hull at shull@mccn.edu.

Night Shift Nutrition

By Rachael Press, MCCN Dietetic Intern

Healthcare professionals are often required to work shifts that may not fall into the typical daily routine. These shifts are certainly stressful socially and physically, and your diet may also suffer. Night shift workers also have higher risk for heart disease and obesity due to the stress on their bodies. Even if you do not alter your body’s time clock, there is often not much time to incorporate adequate nutrition into your busy life. So, how do you fulfill your job responsibilities without sacrificing your health? Here are some tips for busy employees and night-shift workers.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, if your work hours fall anywhere outside of 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., they are not in the typical daily shifts. Along with disrupting your sleep schedule, the brain chemicals and hormones that impact your appetite, nervous and digestive systems, and mood may be disrupted, which ultimately affects your weight and risk for heart disease. By following a few simple tips, you can prevent the negative effects of your non-traditional routine.

Prior to your shift:

- Turning lights on will energize you by helping your body to stop its production of melatonin, which causes you to feel tired. Melatonin is suppressed by light, but darkness triggers its production, so turn those lights on!
- Boost your energy production through physical activity. Even yoga or stretching will help wake you up.
- Eat a healthy meal with whole grains, plenty of vegetables, and a lean protein. A high protein, high-fiber meal will help keep you going and feeling full. Planning ahead and packing your meals into portioned containers will give you one less thing to worry about while getting ready for work. You are also more likely to make healthy choices when you are not in a rush. Packing your own food also prevents you from making unhealthy last-minute decisions on fast food and vending machines.

During your shift:

- Again, eating a healthy meal will help your blood sugar stay stable and keep you feeling energized. Nuts are a great quick snack that provide you with fiber, healthy fats, and protein, and are also quick and easy to grab if you’re busy.
- Staying hydrated will also keep you feeling energized and will avoid confusion of hunger for thirst.

Toward the end of your shift:

- A lighter meal is ideal so that your food will be digested before going to sleep.

After your shift:

- Get some sleep. Although it may be light out and your mind may think it is time to be awake, you should force yourself to get some rest so that you can refuel and avoid wearing yourself out. Try turning the lights off and closing the blinds so that your body starts thinking it is time for sleep.

Snack tips for busy workers:

- Small handful of nuts, such as almonds, walnuts, or pistachios
- Peanut butter and jelly sandwich on whole grain bread
- Fruits, such as apples and bananas, are quick and easy snacks to grab on-the-go
- Coffee with low-fat milk

ATTENTION STUDENTS: Opportunity to Earn Credit for Summer Camp Nursing Seminar or Community Service Hours

Flying Horse Farms

Flying Horse Farms (FHF) is a camp for children with serious illnesses that annually serves over 1,500 campers with cancer, heart disease, heart surgeries, Crohn’s, asthma, arthritis, sickle cell, hemophilia, and other blood-related disorders. For most of these children, the typical summer camp experience is impossible, but with FHF’s state-of-the-art medical facilities and 24/7 medical staff, campers can have a “spectacularly average” camp experience. Sophomore and junior students may take a camp nursing seminar for credit while assisting at the camp or volunteer for community service hours. If interested in the summer camp nursing seminar or volunteering at FHF, contact Hannah O’Handley at hohandley@mccn.edu or 614-234-3874.
