Fairfield Medical Center is pleased to announce that it has been named one of the Top 10 Workplaces in Central Ohio for 2014. The awards are based on the results of staff surveys conducted by Columbus CEO magazine and Channel 10 WBNS-TV. FMC participated in the survey last October and had a response rate of 52 percent, which is considered excellent. Channel 10 will be making television announcements about the Top 10 Workplaces. While we know that we ranked in the Top 10, we will not find out the specific ranking until April 15. We plan to make this announcement as part of our State of the Center celebration on April 16. Columbus CEO magazine also will make specific award announcements in their special edition on April 15. Congratulations to all for making FMC such a great place to work!

Clifford Kuhn, M.D., also known as the Laugh Doctor, joined FMC on Friday, March 28 in honor of National Doctors’ Day. He also spoke with board members and leadership in an inspiring morning session.

Fairfield Medical Center is proud to announce the addition of Anthony Midkiff, M.D., with Emergency Medicine Physicians (EMP).

The Volunteer Appreciation Banquet was held on April 1, with more than 160 people in attendance. We had a great time with the April Fools’ Day theme. Chef Jamie Brumbaugh and the Dietary staff catered a delicious meal, Mark Abbati from joyUnspeakable Productions, Inc. entertained us as a living statue, and more than 35 staff members volunteered their time to serve our wonderful volunteers. Thanks to the entire team that made this year’s banquet a success!
Straight Talk From Sky

FMC Volunteers Bring Smiles

When most patients and visitors enter our doors, they do not have a smile on their face because of the stress and anxiety most are feeling about an impending procedure or prognosis. While we can’t always change the circumstances causing their stress, our volunteers have the unique opportunity to change the environment for that stress.

The smiles these 220 individuals give people walking through our doors each day is priceless. And, it doesn’t stop with patients and visitors – it extends to staff members as well.

Last week at the Annual Volunteer Banquet we honored our volunteers for the estimated 30,258 hours of service they provided to Fairfield Medical Center in 2103. We simply could not offer the level of service we do to our patients and visitors without their dedicated support.

The banquet took place on April Fool’s Day and was filled with surprises to put smiles on our volunteers’ faces. When you pass a volunteer in the hall this week, take a moment to thank them. Without them, we certainly would not have as many smiles, or as much laughter, joy and cheer.

My sincere thanks go to our FMC volunteers for their dedicated service.

Register Today for the Spring Clinical Symposium

Register now for the 8th Annual Spring Clinical Symposium: “From Genes to the Genome: The Future is Now, What Every Practicing Clinician Needs to Know.”

The event will be held in the Second Floor Assembly Rooms on Friday, April 25.

The study of genetics and its implications touch practitioners today both personally and professionally.

The symposium will address genetics across the lifespan, including maternal/fetal genetics and cardiovascular and cancer genetics. Participants will gain an understanding of genetic testing options, social and ethical implications of testing and how they can incorporate the results into their practice. Participants also will be able to describe common forms of inheritable genetic diseases.

This is a multidisciplinary event that impacts practitioners personally and professionally and all clinicians are invited and encouraged to attend.

The registration deadline is Friday, April 18. Please email Jennifer@fmchealth.org for questions or to obtain a registration form.

From the Chief’s Desk

I know there is a Project BRIGHT update every week in Monday Morning. I wanted to give an update from my perspective. If you haven’t been able to look out the windows from the patient tower, you can really get a great view of the construction right on our website – www.fmchealth.org. We have a camera set-up on the roof of the Pavilion and a number of pictures are automatically taken and added to the site every day. It’s pretty cool to look through the slideshow for the past six months to see how much has been done (also to see how much snow we had this winter). One hint, when you get on the slideshow, at the bottom you can speed up the show to 16X. That goes through the whole thing in about five minutes.

In any case, the basement wall structure is mostly completed, the underground utilities are in and over the weekend, a large portion of the basement floor was put in. So, in the next couple of weeks, you will start to see the steel structure going up. Even though we lost time over the winter because of the extreme temperatures, we are still on schedule. The plan is that construction will be done by this time next year – the end of the 1st quarter of 2015. The second quarter will be for equipment installation and move in.

There is still a lot of planning to do well before we move in. As we have said all along, once Project BRIGHT is completed, we will essentially be an all-private room hospital. For that to happen, we still need a lot of input from everyone on what services will be on what floors, how many patients will be on each floor and what the staff complement will be on those floors. We will still provide the same services and the same number of beds, but some of the locations will change. For those who worry about their jobs, you don’t need to; we will still need at least as many staff as we have today. Much of those discussions have already begun and will continue over the next few months. Our goal will be to keep everyone informed as early as possible.

In addition to being on schedule, I am much more comfortable about the budget. Over the last six months, we have worked very hard with everyone involved in planning Project BRIGHT to reduce costs of the project by more than $8 million dollars without impacting the function nor appearance of the building. Now that most everything has been bid, we are back on the approved budget of $38 million. Those discussions included many physicians, staff and leadership from multiple departments. While I don’t want to list all the names for fear of leaving people out, I do want to give credit to Chad Cupp, who is doing an outstanding job leading this project. I also would like to thank everyone who has toured the mock rooms and provided feedback. That information is extremely helpful and will help ensure that the patient rooms are the best they can be.

Now that we are back on budget, we continue to look for additional savings. Currently the budget doesn’t include any dollars for work in the South Lobby. If we save enough dollars, the plan is to use those dollars to expand Chemotherapy into the gift shop space, build a new gift shop and possibly relocate the Chapel. Again, we will let you know as those plans are developed and what the timing will be.

Mumps Update

Some of you may be aware of the mumps outbreak at The Ohio State University. A case of mumps has been reported in northern Fairfield County. The person worked at the OSU Student Health Center and was likely exposed there. If you have patients with mumps or suspected mumps, please report this as soon as possible to the Fairfield County Health Department. If the person is diagnosed in the hospital, please also let Infection Control know. The patient should be placed in DROPLET precautions. Persons with mumps or possible mumps should wear a regular surgical mask. Providers seeing these persons should also wear a surgical mask. Try to cohort patients with fevers and respiratory symptoms away from other patients in waiting rooms and triage patients if they call in. Someone with mumps diagnosis should remain at home or off work/school for five days. The incubation period of mumps is typically 12-25 days. Due to this, providers who are exposed and susceptible to mumps should be off work on days 12-25 (post exposure) to prevent the spread should they ultimately contract mumps. Providers are able to work days 1-11 post exposure.

Employees can be pre-screened according to the following characteristics to determine who is NOT at risk for mumps. Those at risk should see their doctors for vaccination, if possible. You are NOT at risk if:
• You have documentation of two doses of MMR
• Positive IgG mumps
• Physician diagnosed history of mumps
• Birth before 1957

Both sessions included laughter and a tailored message about the positive effects of humor on one’s overall health and the impact it can make on an organization. The Laugh Doctor was brought to FMC by the Fairfield Medical Center Foundation in an effort to give back to physicians and leadership for all that they do in support of the Foundation.

Family Y Spring Open Enrollment for FMC Employees

The Robert K. Fox Family Y in Lancaster is having their Spring Open Enrollment for FMC employees from April 27th through May 10. During the open enrollment period, the joining fee is one-half off. Stop by the Robert K. Family Y to complete your application. The cost may be payroll deducted.

Foundation Donor Wall Updated

The FMC Foundation’s Legends & Leaders Donor Wall in the South Lobby has been updated to represent current donor giving through the end of 2013. The donor wall will be renewed every February recognizing donors from the previous year. The Foundation truly values each donation and appreciates the opportunity to honor our gracious donors. For more information of how to be recognized on the Donor Wall, please contact the Foundation office at 740-687-8107.

The Associate of the ACC (AACC) designation recognizes those cardiac care associates who, through advanced education, training and professional development, have dedicated themselves to providing the highest-level of cardiovascular care. Jennifer, Patty and Bob were three of 24 cardiac care associate (worldwide) who were advanced to the Associate level.

April is Occupational Therapy Month!

Occupational Therapy: Achieving Success in Every Day Life! The Occupational Therapy Department is staffed by eight Occupational Therapists and six Occupational Therapy Assistants who provide services to a wide variety of patient populations in various settings, including: Inpatient, Outpatient, schools in Fairfield and Morgan Counties, Psychiatric Health Services, and Industrial Rehabilitation. Our outpatient therapy clinic is located on Main Street in the Kroger Plaza. Occupational Therapy evaluates and treats individuals with physical, cognitive, emotional or developmental disabilities. Treatment focuses on helping the person regain functional abilities that allow for a productive life by:
• Learning new ways to manage daily personal self care tasks such as dressing, bathing, feeding and hygiene.
• Obtaining specialized adaptive equipment to allow an individual to function more independently.
• Participating in functional activities to improve movement, strength, endurance and coordination of the arms and hands.
• Learning techniques to compensate for varying levels of loss of vision and/or sensation.
• Engaging in activities that foster appropriate developmental skills in the pediatric population.
• Working on skills necessary to return to work, household and community activities.
• Participating in group and individual activities that promote increased social interaction, organization skills, life skill building, and stress management skills.
• Assessing the home environment and making appropriate recommendations to improve safety and functioning within the home.

Heartburn Center Serves 1,000 Patients

The Fairfield Medical Heartburn Center has just reached an exciting milestone – it has officially seen 1,000 patients since opening in January of 2012. “It is so amazing that in just two years, we have performed education and/or testing for 1,000 people in our community and surrounding counties,” said Tina Cass, nurse coordinator for the Fairfield Medical Heartburn Center.

The Fairfield Medical Heartburn Center, in partnership with Legato Health Systems, is supported by a team of 11 physicians who provide comprehensive diagnosis and treatment of GERD. Heartburn is a symptom of GERD, which is one of the most common chronic diseases in the U.S. To learn more about the Heartburn Center, contact Tina Cass at 740-689-6486 or tinac@fmchealth.org.

Hospital Week is coming! We need your help in nominating fellow employees for the awards listed below. We have changed the awards this year. To vote on the Employee of the Year, you can fill out the nomination form below instead of the normal ballot with names. We will still have two runners-up.

There also will be a new award called the “Excellence in Service Award.” This award will replace the following awards: Community Service Award, Professional Excellence Award, Quality and Safety Service Award and Legendary Service Award. Please fill out the nomination form for any person whom you feel is an ambassador for the Center.

We will still give out the following awards as done in the past: Foundation Legendary Employee Philanthropist, Leadership Teammate of the Year, Wellness Star and the President’s Award. Any employee of Fairfield Medical Center who is not currently in the disciplinary process is eligible. Please return all ballots to Human Resources or the Direct Line Box by April 25.

Dr. Reddy Offers New Surgery for Cataracts

Dr. Deepa Reddy, Ophthalmologist with Fairfield Healthcare Professionals Ophthalmology, recently began providing an enhanced option for patients suffering from the development of a cataract, which is the clouding of the normally clear lens in the eye. Symptoms from cataract can include blurry vision, glare or light sensitivity, poor night vision, needing brighter light to read and fading or yellowing of colors. Surgery is the only way a cataract can be removed. Traditionally, patients who undergo cataract surgery receive a monofocal lens implant that doesn’t correct other vision problems, such as astigmatism. Astigmatism is an eye condition that is caused by an irregular curvature of the cornea or lens, and hampers the ability to see fine detail. Typically, patients who suffer from both cataract and astigmatism are still required to wear glasses post-cataract surgery in order to obtain clear vision. Dr. Reddy is now offering patients the option of a Toric lens implant, which also corrects astigmatism. The enhanced lens is placed using the same tiny incision as with traditional cataract removal surgery and is perfect for patients who desire to be free of glasses or contacts worn for an astigmatism post cataract surgery. “This is a great option for patients who live an active lifestyle or for those who just choose to live a life free of the fuss of glasses or contacts, since they can make many activities difficult and eyes uncomfortable,” said Dr. Reddy. If you are interested in learning more about a procedure that can treat both your cataract and astigmatism, or have other eye problems that you are interested in finding treatment for, contact Fairfield Healthcare Professionals Ophthalmology at 740-687-6902.

Oxygen for the Soul

People often say that motivation doesn’t last. Well, neither does bathing. That’s why we recommend it daily.

—Zig Ziglar

Meaningful moments – Prayer time: 11:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m. Monday – Friday in the Chapel. Self-directed or with one of the chaplains. (The Chaplains’ Oxygen for the Soul is not intended to be an endorsement of any particular religion, but rather serve as an avenue for our FMC chaplains to provide weekly inspiration.)

Lessons on Lent

It’s slowly starting to feel like spring. After a long, cold winter, it cannot come soon enough. Many of us are looking forward to Easter, now less than three weeks away. Whether you live on a farm in the country or your only taste of the country is the Tranquility Garden here at the hospital, it is hard to miss the vitality in the air. The best news, though, is that our hearts can be blossoming with new life, as well. How is this possible? A way has been opened for us through prayer. It is a way to connect with the Giver of Life. How often do you pray? Sometimes we simply forget to when we get busy. The chapel is a great place to stop for prayer when you’re on a short break. But silent prayer is an open channel of life for us every moment of the day. The work environment might not seem like a sanctuary, but through prayer, you can breathe the very air that makes heaven a place of joy and peace. As an on-call chaplain, I offer up a prayer every time I’m called in. Why? It’s so I can be a blessing. Through prayer, FMC can be a place people feel a need for when they require medical care. Utilizing the privilege of prayer, our hospital will be a place where we can enjoy the radiance of spring throughout the year.

Events

From the Employee Activities Committee
